“The Strengthening Women’s Access to Justice and Improving Response of Judicial System for More Effective Implementation of Legislation in Combating Violence against Women in Türkiye” project marks the first partnership between UN Women Türkiye and the Ministry of Justice. With the overall objective to increase women and girls’ access to justice, the project aims to strengthen the implementation of Law No. 6284 on Protection of Family and the Prevention of Violence against Women (VAW), which is the primary piece of legislation codifying preventive and protective measures for violence against women and girls (VAWG) incidents and risks, free from gender-based stereotypes and in a survivor-centred manner.

The project adopts a holistic view of the judicial system and targets judges and public prosecutors as well as experts working in the relatively newly established Legal Support and Victims Services Directorates, which inter alia provide informative and psychosocial services to survivors of VAWG.

To strengthen the capacity of judicial actors, the project targets 450 family court judges and public prosecutors working at domestic violence and VAW investigation bureaux through a series of experience sharing workshops on Law No. 6284, as well as knowledge products on implementing the Law and relevant regulations. To attain efficient results, UN Women and the Ministry work with a Working Group consisting of judges and public prosecutors experienced in implementing Law No. 6284. The project is to contribute to the social and economic stabilization of women from refugee and host communities who are official partners of the SADA Women's Cooperative and enhance women's leadership and self-reliance through the provision of gender-responsive livelihoods support for better recovery and resilience.

The project is to provide an opportunity to enable partners of the Cooperative to improve their vocational and soft skills through a series of training sessions provided by project's private sector partner 66°Norður. In achieving this, experts will provide different training and coaching sessions tailored to the needs of women in a gender-responsive way. Vocational training sessions delivered by technical experts are expected to enhance women's existing skills in textile sector. Skills development trainings will be aligned with the needs of value and procurement chains, thus the private sector partner of the project 66°Norður will use its own marketing channels to reach out to international markets.

As part of the campaigns, a documentary on SADA Women's Cooperative will be created to highlight the importance of gender equality and women's economic empowerment in refugee response settings. The campaign will be covered via a range of communication channels and media dissemination which will eventually support the sales of products produced by the Cooperative by reaching at least 300,000 people worldwide. Finally, the campaign will be launched at Women Political Leader's Forum in Reykjavík, Iceland in November 2022.

In Türkiye, The United Nations International Children’s Emergency Fund (UNICEF), International Organization for Migration (IOM), The United Nations Population Fund (UNFPA), Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), and UN Women have been working together on the “UN Joint Programme for the Prevention of CEFM” (the Joint Programme) since 2018, with the support of the Swedish International Development Cooperation Agency (SIDA). The First Phase of the Joint Programme ended in September 2021, resulting in increased national synergies in CEFM prevention through advocacy on the international and national normative framework; data generation and analysis; technical support to national and provincial coordination mechanisms and action plans; and community mobilization with a focus on girls’ empowerment and male engagement.

In the Second Phase, which is to be implemented by UNICEF, UNFPA and UN Women with consultative support from IOM and UNHCR, the Joint Programme draws on the experience and lessons learned from the first phase, adapting the programme activities to the context of COVID-19 as needed. Interventions under the Joint Programme seek to: change social norms and attitudes towards gender equality; improve institutional capacity to prevent and respond to CEFM; work closely with civil society and other allies to preserve and advance the legislative and policy framework in line with international commitments; provide specialized services to survivors; and support financial stability and economic empowerment of families and children most at risk of CEFM.

With the financing of SIDA, the Joint Programme will identify and address the socio-economic needs of families experiencing multidimensional poverty where girls (and boys) are at risk of CEFM and improve their access to high-quality social services. UN Women continues to support and consolidates networks and alliances, enabling them to hold the government accountable for its international commitments, and sustains the powerful message that positive gender socialization, investment in girls’ and women’s empowerment, and communication for gender equality are now even more crucial for Türkiye.

Unstereotype Alliance is the UN's first private sector partnership of this design.

It is an industry-led initiative convened by UN Women in 2017 to end the harmful gender stereotyping often perpetuated through communications.

The Alliance is a “think and do” platform that uses communications as a force for good to drive positive change, focused on empowering people in all their diversity (gender identity, race, ethnicity, socio-economic status, age, ability, sexuality, language, religion, education, body-size and more).

The Alliance noted significant achievements over 5 years including the membership growth of +867%, the launch of 12 national chapters across 5 continents, and the continuous improvement of Unstereotype Metric scores among Unstereotype Alliance members.

Türkiye National Chapter – convened by UN Women Türkiye – was established in December 2019 under the leadership of the Turkish Advertising Agencies Association and the Turkish Advertisers Association.

The Chapter works towards creating an unstereotyped culture through 4 workstreams led by members: 1) sharing the know-how and best-in-class initiatives, 2) data collection, research and measurement, 3) communications and awareness-raising, 4) systemic change initiatives including capacity building, member engagement and promoting the implementation of WEPs in workplaces.

As of July 2022, the Chapter has 18 members and 12 allies, working together to ensure that progressive and inclusive representation becomes a norm across the marketing communications industry.

Since establishment of Türkiye National Chapter, women's representation in ads shows a positive improvement (from %35 in 2018 to %53 in 2021); the industry is moving towards more inclusive and progressive approach.

Engagements with Private Sector

Considering the private sector's critical role in advancing the position of women and gender sensitive practices in the workplace, marketplace and community, UN Women has prioritized engagement with the private sector since the establishment of its presence in Türkiye.

UN Women Türkiye Office works with the private sector under three UN Women global frameworks which have been implemented locally:

Women's Empowerment Principles (WEPs) since 2010 (global), since 2011 (Türkiye)

HeForShe since 2014 (global), since 2015 (Türkiye)

Unstereotype Alliance (UA) since 2017 (global), since 2019 (Türkiye Chapter)

WOMEN'S EMPOWERMENT PRINCIPLES

Established by UN Global Compact and UN Women, the WEPs are informed by international labour and human rights standards and grounded in the recognition that businesses have a stake in, and a responsibility for, gender equality and women's empowerment. The WEPs are a set of principles offering guidance to businesses on how to promote gender equality and women's empowerment in the workplace, marketplace and community by focusing on high-level corporate leadership, equal treatment of women and men in the workplace, employee, health, well-being and safety, education, training and career advancement, gender responsive supply chain and marketing practices, community initiatives and advocacy and measurement and reporting. WEPs are a primary vehicle for corporate delivery on gender equality dimensions of the 2030 Agenda and the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals. As of March 2023, there are over 460 signatories in Türkiye and this number is increasing.

<https://www.weps.org/companies>

HEFORSHE

HeForShe is the global solidarity movement initiated by UN Women inviting men and people of all genders to stand in solidarity with women and to become an advocate for gender equality. HeForShe offers an innovative, inclusive approach to challenge gender stereotypes and transform harmful masculinities, to mobilize men as equal partners for gender equality and women's rights that acknowledges the ways in which men and boys are also benefiting from gender equality. HeForShe was launched in Türkiye in 2015 with the support of Koç Holding, a former Impact Champion of HeForShe and recently one of the Action Coalition leaders on Technology and Innovation at the Generation Equality Forum. HeForShe Türkiye carries out various awareness raising, communications and advocacy and capacity building activities together with the private sector, universities, CSOs and sports institutions.

UNSTEREOTYPE ALLIANCE

The Unstereotype Alliance is an industry-led initiative convened by UN Women in 2017 to end the harmful gender stereotyping often perpetuated through communications. It is a thought and action platform that uses communications as a force for good to drive positive change. The Alliance is focused on empowering people in all their diversity (gender identity, race, ethnicity, socio-economic status, age, ability, sexuality, language, religion, education, body-size and more). It seeks to eradicate harmful stereotypes to help create a more equal world. Gender stereotypes are culturally driven and the Unstereotype Alliance takes a localised approach with National Chapters in 12 markets and continues to expand its footprint. Türkiye National Chapter – convened by UN Women Türkiye – was established in December 2019 under the leadership of the Turkish Advertising Agencies Association and the Turkish Advertisers Association.

ADVANCING Gender Equality Through Communications

UN Women Türkiye Country Office positions communications and advocacy as an important pillar for the implementation of its programmes under its strategic plan for 2022–2025. Guided by its communications strategy, UN Women Türkiye aims to support the transformative change in society that is needed for achieving gender equality. As a part of its communications strategy, UN Women advocates for gender equality and women’s empowerment through diverse communications tools and activities. Putting innovation and co-creation principles at its core of communications, UN Women Türkiye runs online and offline campaigns on special days such as 16 Days of Activism Against Gender Based Violence, International Women’s Day and International Day of the Girl Child.

Building unconventional partnerships is an effective component that is at the core of UN Women’s communications and advocacy strategy. In order to expand the reach and impact of its communications and advocacy activities, UN Women collaborates with social media profiles, private sector companies, artist communities, influencers, celebrities, advertisers, creative industries and sportspersons. The partnerships are built and developed through co-creation of joint advocacy, social media and conventional media campaigns. UN Women does joint advocacy work with its Media Compact partners, and the members/supporters of HeForShe, WEPs and the Unstereotype Alliance. UN Women also coordinates the communications and advocacy work for bolstering gender equality across the UN System.

UN Women Türkiye builds a long standing collaboration with actress Demet Evgar. Becoming the national Goodwill Ambassador of UN Women Türkiye, Demet Evgar runs campaigns to raise awareness and change attitudes as an influential and followed role model. Through working with Demet Evgar, UN Women aims to support the empowerment of women, raise their awareness about their rights, address harmful norms and values, eliminate gender-based violence and promote protection mechanisms.

UN Women Türkiye’s solidarity movement HeForShe collaborates with the famous actor Kerem Bursin to raise awareness about gender roles, gender-based stereotypes and harmful masculinities. Becoming the first national HeForShe Advocate for Türkiye, Kerem Bursin aims to amplify the message of HeForShe and contribute to transforming harmful masculinities.

The unconventional partnerships and the innovative campaigns have resulted in several awards and nominations for UN Women Türkiye which have been shown as best practices at the national, regional and global levels.
